Pinnacle Mountain State Park Highlights:

- Just west of Arkansas's capital city of Little Rock, Pinnacle Mountain stands as the centerpiece of this geographically diverse state park.
- This day-use park offers a variety of outdoor adventures on the Big and Little Maumelle Rivers, in the Arkansas Arboretum, and along over 22 miles of trails, home to one of the Monument Trails, named one of the best mountain bike trails in the country by Outside Magazine.
- Approximately 600,000 visitors enjoy hiking, biking, and boating annually.

The two-story, Colonial Revival building, known as the Butterfield House, is a four-pen dog trot built in the mid 1800's. In 1926, Maximillian Mayer was commissioned to transform the residence from the earlier two-story, log structure to the current Colonial Revival residence. As part of the renovation, Mayer incorporated the pens of the dogtrot, utilizing them as the frame of the structure. The house was also the home to John Gould Fletcher, a Pulitzer Prize winning poet.
